

Calling WA Storytellers

Carers WA are looking for storytellers to join in for 'Talking Space'; a collection of short stories.

Following on from the success of the recent Carers WA, 'Disable the Label' project, we are excited to announce the next book highlighting storytellers place within the community.

The book aims to capture the everyday experiences of people living with disability. If you identify as a person with disability and would like your story to be included in the new book, we would love to hear from you!

Entry requirements

- All ages and writing abilities.
- Include a story in 600 words or less (written or verbal).
- Must include a short paragraph to introduce yourself
- The story must highlight any adversity or challenge you have faced in the community and how you overcame the situation.
- A photo that suits your story or an image of yourself.
